

Reasons

Jillian Jacqueline

I don't wanna tell my parents, tell my sister
You don't wanna tell your friends
You don't wanna pack your stuff
Fall back in love with another girl again
All alone, picking up, take out
Coming home to an empty house
Admit that all the time we spent
It was just a lesson We've got all our reasons why
We try to justify
Still [?] to stay together
And we're supposed to last forever
You and I, too scared to say goodbye
But guess what will happen later
We're not doing us any favors
I'm so sick of living a lie
So screw all of our reasons why We feel like roommates, standing at the same sink
We don't even kiss goodnight
I don't wanna be a quitter, don't wanna have to answer
When everybody asks me why
Giving all your t-shirts back
Putting all my stuff in bags
We were supposed to be married by the time we're 30
Waking up was scary We've got all our reasons why
We try to justify
Still [?] to stay together
And we're supposed to last forever
You and I, too scared to say goodbye
But guess what will happen later
We're not doing us any favors
I'm so sick of living a lie
So screw all of our reasons why
Goodbye I can love you, you can love me
It can be, it can be just that simple, baby
I can love you, you can love me
It can be, be just that simple, baby
I can love you, you can love me
It can be, it can be just that simple, baby
I can love you, you can love me
It can be, be just that simple, baby (yeah) Reasons why
We try to justify (justify)
Still [?] to stay together
And we're supposed to last forever

You and I (you and I), too scared to say goodbye (goodbye)
Guess what will happen later
We're not doing us any favors
I'm so sick of living a lie
So screw all of our reasons why
