

Broken Ones (Feenixpawl Remix)

Jacquie Lee

Cross your heart and say you've never given up
That you carried on when every door was shut
That you live you live with no regret
We wear a smile to hide that we've been hurt before
Keep our disasters in a suitcase by the door
'Cause you know, you know we're only human So lay your hands, on the left behind
We all know how it feels to be forgotten for a while
In a crowded place, trying not to feel alone
Just remember that we've all been broken once
So let's love the broken ones, yeah
Love the broken ones
Raise a glass to all the words we never say
We do our best but still we look the other way
'Cause sometimes, it's easier to run
'Cause after all, we're only human So lay your hands, on the left behind
We all know how it feels to be forgotten for a while
In a crowded place, trying not to feel alone
Just remember that we've all been broken once
So let's love the broken ones, yeah
Love the broken ones Sometimes we're left behind
Feel like the only one
But we were born to try
Yeah, we're only human
So lay your hand, on the left behind
We all know how it feels to be forgotten for a while
In a crowded place, trying not to feel so alone
Just remember that we've all been broken once
So let's love the broken ones, woah
Love the broken ones
Let's love the broken ones
Love the broken ones, yeah
Let's love the broken ones
