Someone Else

Miley Cyrus

If you're looking for love
Know that love don't live here anymore
He left with my heart
They both walked through that door, without me
If you're trying to find pity then you need to look somewhere else
Cause I surely can't help you
I'm hurting myself
I've turned into someone else
I used to believe the comfortThat's what seen in movies
Come to find out it's not like that at all
You see real life's much different
I don't want to see you go
Only want to see you smile
It hurts so much just thinking of
Felt like this for awhile
I can't stand to see you there
We cried we lied
Cannot pretend to change the fact
That what we had could make us feel alive again
Hold me close, don't let me go, I hope
Tell me that now is not the end
If you're looking for loveKnow that love don't live here anymore
He left with my heart
They both walked through that door, without me
If you're trying to find pity then you need to look somewhere else
Cause I surely can't help you
I'm hurting myself
I've turned into someone else
I used to believe love conquers all
Cause that's what I felt when you held me
I thought you'd catch me if I fall
And fill me up when I'm empty
I don't want to see you go
Only want to see you smile
It hurts so much just thinking ofFelt like this for awhile
I can't stand to see you there
We cried we lied
Cannot pretend to change the fact
That what we had could make us feel alive again
Hold me close, don't let me go, I hope
Tell me that now is not the end
If you're looking for love

Know that love don't live here anymore
He left with my heartThey both walked through that door, without me
If you're trying to find pity then you need to look somewhere else
Cause I surely can't help you
I'm hurting myself
I've turned into someone else
Love is patient
Love is selfless
Love is hopeful
Love is god
Love is jealous
Love is selfish
Love is helpless
Love is blind
