

Don't Hold Back

The Potbelleez

Is there anybody out there feeling something? Engage me
Let me breathe the courage of your actions
Don't hold back make it be for the good The truth is
I am not your cure but I can help you
Find a way to reconcile the dark Is there anybody out there feeling something?
Is there anybody out there feeling something? Stay right there
'Cause I want to watch you taking off your morning
And putting on that midnight smile for me You're chasing
The slow motion belief that you are dreaming
And running from the things that make you feel
Is there anybody out there feeling something?
Is there anybody out there feeling something?
