Promise the Stars

We the Kings

Let's take off and fly
And race through the sky
And like the hundreds of airplanes
We're floating way up highWe'll never look down
We'll build our own town

And like the thousands of clouds We will never touch the groundBut would you risk the broken bones

Just to call this place home?

This could be home

Well, maybe I'm down low

Maybe I'm up high

Maybe I'm losing my own mind

You know that there are no other two hearts

Closer than ours

Maybe you'll follow

Maybe you'll stay

I'm praying you won't give yourself away

You know that you are the only one

I promise the stars

You areWith your hands in mine

We'll soar through the night

And like the dozens of space ships

We'll dance with satellites

We'll keep our eyes closed

And we won't let go

And with the millions of stars

We will never be aloneBut would you risk the broken bones

Just to call this place home?

This could be homeWell, maybe I'm down low

Maybe I'm up high

Maybe I'm losing my own mind

You know that there are no other two hearts

Closer than ours

Maybe you'll follow

Maybe you'll stay

I'm praying you won't give yourself away

You know that you are the only one

I promise the stars

You are And I, I

Want you, my only lover

And I, I

Want you, my only loverWell, maybe I'm down low

Maybe I'm up high
Maybe I'm losing my own mind
You know that there are no other two hearts
Closer than ours
Maybe you'll follow
Maybe you'll stay
You know that you are the only one
I promise the stars
