

Wanna Be That Song

Brett Eldredge

The radio and a sundress Makin' my world all a mess Back corner of a cornfield Bottle tops and the truth spin Pull the lever, lay the seat back laughin' You slippin' off your shoes While the dashboard speakers Sing every word of Night Moves I wanna be that song that gets you high
Makes you dance, makes you fall
That melody rewinds years, once disappeared Makes time stall wanna be those words that fill you up, roll your windows down and keeps you young makes you believe you're right where you belong i wanna be that song i wanna be wanna be wanna be that song ooh i wanna be i wanna
i wanna
i wanna stand with you in the third row the window booth at a bar back pew on a Sunday, pourin' out your heart When the bleachers are crowded When you're sittin' all alone When the rain is pourin' and you need something to take you home let me be that song that gets you high
that melody rewinds years
once disappeared, makes time stall wanna be those words that fill you up, roll your windows down and keeps you young
i wanna be wanna be wanna be
i wanna be
i wanna i wanna

when you're searching the horizon when your eyes look back when you're standing in the moment, every life has a soundtrack
i wanna be
ooh i wanna be
when the highway's callin' when the bottle's dry when the sky is fallin' and you're asking yourself why
i wanna be
yeahhh
oooooh
