A Grave Mistake

ICE NINE KILLS

Here lies a lifeless bride and groom
Till death do us part came far too soon
Buildings burn and people die
All of the timeBut I heard that you reap what you sew
So around and around we go

And when you see my face you'll knowYou can't save yourself or save your soul

When you meet the man whose life you stole

With withered wings and broken bones A flight for the fallen, flies the crow

Can't save yourself

These vengeful thoughts trapped underneath

Rage, scorn, misery

Payback for what you took from me

Hope, love, sanityI heard that you reap what you sew

So here's to believing in ghosts

Now when you see my face you'll knowYou can't save yourself or save your soul

When you meet the man whose life you stole

With withered wings and broken bones

A flight for the fallen, flies the crowNo forgiveness, just farewell

A match made in heaven

You sent straight to hell

No forgiveness, no escape

May you rest in pieces

For your grave mistake

For your grave mistake

You can't save yourself or save your soul

When you meet the man who's life you stole

With withered wings and broken bones

A flight for the fallen, flies the crow

You can't save yourself

No you can't save yourselfFor your grave mistake

You can't save yourself
