

This Is Not Real Love (feat. Mutya)

George Michael

Don't kiss me, darling
I want you to hear the things I say
I loved you in my way
But you know I'm gonna leave youThe clock was always ticking
And your heart,
Yes, I know your heart is always on the runI hate what I've become
But I'm still gonna leave you
And I don't think you should stay for the nightBaby, you know that my flesh is weak
You know I simplyI cannot sleep without you
My heart has simply nowhere to go
Nothing to hold
Those tears you're cryingTime and time again
You take me back in, babyYou don't have to make it plainThis is not real loveLook at us dancing baby
Let's dance and show them all
(Dance and show them all)
How close we are
The lies have worked so far
So we go on deceivingBut darling don't you know the time
Baby, look at yourself, holding back the tide
Like you've got something else up your sleeve
That's why I've got to leave
And I don't think you should stay here tonight
(Baby, don't you know that my flesh is weak, you know)
I simply I cannot sleep without you
But someday I'll have nothing to show
(Nothing to show)
(Nothing to show)
I've nothing to holdOh, baby, crying
All those simple things
That won't come again
Oh do I have to make it plainThis is not real love
And I said this is not real loveReal love
Baby, it don't glisten and shine
The way it used toThis is not real love (real love)
Baby, think of all the promises I made
On the day that I seduced you
Baby, don't wait for me like some angel of tragedyI have to set you free
Darling you should be long gone,
Oh, long gone by now
You should be with someone, someoneGlisten and shine
You promised meYou've gotta face it woman,

You ain't ever gonna change me Where will I go, what do I know
About life without you
You promised me you'd never leave me, no
This is not real love
