These Are the Times (feat. JRM)

Martin Garrix

When life gets you down We find a way to make it better When days turn into dark That's when we light it up togetherThese are the times that we've been praying for These are the moments that we will not forget This is the life that we've been waiting for I wouldn't change it for nothingThese are the times that we've been praying for These are the moments that we will not forget This is the life that we've been waiting for I wouldn't change it for nothing Now that it's clear We made it through the rain together It feels like home so why don't we just stay foreverThese are the times that we've been praying for These are the moments that we will not forget This is the life that we've been waiting for I wouldn't change it for nothing These are the times that we've been praying for These are the moments that we will not forget This is the life that we've been waiting for I wouldn't change it for nothing
