Delerium

To others the pain was obvious
The colours of shame, a bruise unjust
Abuse of trust can't be wiped I can't remember why
I chose to say goodbye
I'm terrified of what I might have severed I tried to forget the drowning truth
Lashing inside my sea of youth
Life seemed a fair sacrifice for peace
I can't remember why
I chose to say goodbye
I'm terrified of what I might have severed I ended up too high
But never learned to fly
So coming down, I'm very thankful (you were there)
I can't remember why
I chose to say goodbye
I'm terrified of what i might have severed I ended up too high
But never learned to fly
So coming down, I'm very thankful (you were there)
