Sharp Edges

LINKIN PARK

Mama always told me don't you run

"Don't you run with scissors, son

You're gonna hurt someone"

Mama told me look before you leap

Always think before you speak, and watch the friends you keepStay along the beaten path, never listened when she saidSharp edges have consequences, I

Guess that I had to find out for myself

Sharp edges have consequences, now

Every scar is a story I can tell

Should've played it safer from the start

Loved you like a house of cards

Let it fall apart

But all the things I couldn't understand

Never could've planned

They made me who I am

Put your nose on paperbacks

Instead of smoking cigarettes

These are years you're never getting backStay along the beaten path, never listened when she saidSharp edges have consequences, I

Guess that I had to find out for myself

Sharp edges have consequences, now

Every scar is a story I can tell

We all fall down

We live somehow

We learn what doesn't kill us makes us stronger

We all fall down

We live somehow

We learn what doesn't kill us makes us strongerStay along the beaten path, never listened when she saidSharp edges have consequences, I

Guess that I had to find out for myself

Sharp edges have consequences, now

Every scar is a story I can tellWe all fall down

We live somehow

We learn what doesn't kill us makes us stronger

We all fall down

We live somehow

We learn what doesn't kill us makes us stronger
