

Drink to You (feat. Zak Abel)

Jonas Blue

Mmm, mmmRemember when you said that all good things end?
I never thought that I'd believe you
But now here I am, having lost a friend
And all the times I should've praised youI know, my love, been showing off
How am I ever gonna get through?
'Cause I had my chance but I blew it all
And now's my only time to tell youIf the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound
I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you
If the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound
I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you (I'll drink to you)
I was out of touch, didn't know my luck
You had everything I ever wanted
When I got lost, you came unstuck
And drifted off of my horizonSo take me back, to where we began
I'll be everything you ever needed
If there's one last shot, I'll give you all I've got Oh, Lord knows that you deserve itIf the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound
I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you
If the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound
I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you (I'll drink to you)
When everything is said and done
The truth remains, you were my champion
When everything is said and done
The truth remains, you were the only oneIf the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound
I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you
If the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound
I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you
If the heavens crumbled down
And the days we have are through, I'll drink to you
And when the silence is the sound

I know the one, I know it too, I'll drink to you (I'll drink to you)
